OHSLA Electronic Communication Guidelines & Policies

Content

Members of the GMR-OHSLA LISTSERV and social media communities and attendees of online OHSLA events are expected to behave as professionals. Do not post defamatory, abusive, profane, threatening, offensive, or illegal material.

Online Meetings

OHSLA executive board and business meetings will be hosted on the service subscribed to by OHSLA (e.g., Zoom) unless alternative plans have been approved by the Executive Board. Online meetings will not be recorded for archival purposes. However, they may be recorded for short-term use by the OHSLA Secretary for transcription purposes. Any such recordings will not be shared outside the OHSLA Executive Committee, and deleted after written minutes are completed by the OHSLA Secretary. Meeting minutes, recorded by the secretary, will be the official record of these events.

Listserv and social media posts

Messages sent to an online community should be kept within the scope of the group. This includes, but is not limited to:

- Announcements of available health science library jobs.
- Conferences, meetings, and/or other learning/networking opportunities that may be of interest to the group.

The following content is prohibited from OHSLA online communications:

- Solicitation or sales of personal or commercial products or services. However, members may discuss or introduce new products and services in order to share knowledge and/or experiences.
- Messages asking users to promote or engage in political activities outside the scope of library/librarianship advocacy.

On occasion, OHSLA members may be asked to share information on behalf of a non-member. In this event, the message must be reviewed and approved by the Communications Chair. The Communications Chair will then forward the message.

Non-member messages MUST be:

- Within the scope of OHSLA's mission
- From someone who would not reasonably be a member of OHSLA
- Infrequent

Think about your audience

Only send a message to the entire membership when it contains information that everyone may find beneficial. Please consider whether your post will add to the discussion in an informative way that will be of value to others, or whether it is best to send it privately. Please refrain from posting comments that are directed only to the individual who sent the email, such as "thank you" or "me too."

Check the “To:” field

Before you send your message, check the “To:” field to determine if your message is addressed to the whole list or just the sender of the email. When you click “reply” to the listserv email, the entire list will receive your reply. If you want to reply only to the person who sent the message, replace the listserv email address with the sender’s.

Use the subject line

Choose a descriptive subject line so that recipients have an idea of what the message contains. This allows members to respond more appropriately and makes it easier for members to search the archives by subject.

Language

Users may not use language or post content that is, including but not limited to, unlawful, harassing, abusive, defamatory, obscene, scandalous, inflammatory, pornographic or profane, or otherwise unprofessional. Users also should be cautious with humor and sarcasm.

Misuse

OHSLA accepts no responsibility for the opinions and information posted by users. OHSLA reserves the right to terminate access to GMR-OHSLA and cancel the subscription of any user who does not abide by these rules and guidelines, or for any other reason.

Do not send administrative emails (such as “remove me from the list”) to the entire listserv; instead, contact the manager of the list.
